

Stormont School

The School

Stormont School is a highly successful, independent girls' preparatory day school (4-11 years) in Potters Bar, Hertfordshire with a unique approach to learning and a curriculum that values all subjects including music, PE and art. A positive reinforcement of respect and consideration for others and themselves and for the environment is paramount.

Girls are prepared for many of the best senior day and boarding schools in Hertfordshire and London reflecting the high quality of teaching and learning in small classes, which ensure the girls have the opportunities to flourish. The School has approximately 140 girls and 56 staff.

The Opportunity

The School is seeking to appoint a well-qualified and enthusiastic visiting music teacher as soon as possible to teach girls across the school from Year 2 to Year 6. Music plays a rich part in the life of the School and is led by the Head of Music and Drama with the support of music teachers offering tuition across a wide range of instruments. Currently in excess of 50% of the girls in Years 2-6 regularly participate in the programme of music and singing. The department offers a great number of performance opportunities for developing musicians and encourages participation in high profile ensembles including the school orchestra, string ensemble and the Stormont Singers.
